CASE STUDY ROAD MAINTENANCE HIRE EQUIPMENT

Ausroad Plant Services hire Jetmaster and Horizontal Discharge trucks to private companies, State and Local Governments. If you are a business owner or manager in the industry, you understand whenever a company requires road maintenance trucks, there is always the question of should you buy or hire?

In today's financial climate many people might think that it is a good idea to hire their road maintenance trucks, so let's take a closer look at 8 of the advantages of hiring, instead of buying your trucks.

1 Supplement existing core fleet:
Road maintenance programmes can be greatly impacted by unprecedented weather events; it makes complete sense to hire rather than buy to overcome the abnormality.

4 No extra storage needed:
When you no longer need to use the road maintenance trucks, you don't have to store them in your storage facilities or yard, because we simply pick them up from you at the end of the hire.

2 No maintenance:
You save money on services and maintenance, as we deal with all of that for you and all you need to do is complete your contract.

5 No registrations or insurances:
Part of the costs in owning large trucks are the costly registrations and insurances. We pay all of these for you when you hire from us, so you save even more money.

7 Reduce your liabilities:
When you purchase road maintenance trucks they are classed as liabilities and reduce your ability to borrow money from the banks.

3 No transport needed:
We coordinate delivery and collection of all our hire fleet anywhere in Australia, saving you time and money".

6 Free up your capital:
With any downturn in the economy, every dollar counts and having the cash on hand to grow your business is much better than tying it up in trucks parked in the yard.

8 Unplanned Events::
Road maintenance programmes can be greatly impacted by mechanical failure of capital, accidental damage, or staff shortages. An Ausroad road maintenance hire vehicle can keep you on target.
